Urgent Deficiency Bill in House.

WASHINGTON, April 25 .- Among the morning business brought before the Senate was the introduction by Mr. Peffer ambia." It was read in full and was of Columbia, It provides that the Senate mittee to adopt plans for the improvement of grounds in the District, by opening highways wherever there is reasonable need for them, improving highways ai-ready open, grading lands lying adjacent to such highways so as to prevent washing of the roads, constructing bridges, culverts, and conduits (not to interfere with the present street system), ecessary delay, and such persons employed who are out of work, and who de-sire to work at a daily wage of $1.50 per day of eight hours. The act is to remain in force till April, 1896.

The introduction of this bill was fol-lowed immediately by a resolution offer-ed by Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.), on which he asked immediate action. It recites the he asked immediate action. It recites the current report that unarmed, law-abiding, and peticeably disposed but unemployed citizens of the United States are about to assemble peaceably in the city of Washington, and to petition the Government for a redress of their grievances, and that threats of arresting such persons the Charles of and that threats of arresting such persons upon their entering the District of Columbia and the city of Washington, have been made; and it declares that, under the Constitution of the United States, citizens of the United States, regardless of their rark and station in life, have an undoubted and unquestioned right to peaceably assemble and petition the Government for a redress of their grievances at any place where they do not create a breach of the peace, meaned and appropriate the content of the peace, meaned and appropriate the peace, meaned appropriate the peace, meaned and appropriate the peace, meaned and appropriate the peace, meaned appropriate th not create a breach of the peace, menace-or endanger persons or property, or dis-turb the transaction of the public busi-ness, or the free use of streets and high-ways by the public; that such persons have an undoubted right to visit and as-semble in the city of Washington for any and all peaceable purposes, as in other portions of the territory under the juris-diction of the United States at all times liction of the United States, at all times being amenable to the law for any vio-The third and fourth parts of the reso-

At 1 P. M. the Vice-President laid the ariff bill before the Senate, and Mr. Harris asked unanimous consent that for the remainder of this week the con-sideration of the bill shall continue daily from 1 to 6 P. M. After an exchange of opinions on the subject, and a final objection on the part of Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Harris moved that hereafter and until otherwise ordered, the Senate shall meet each day at 11 A. M. The motion went over till to-morrow, and then Mr. Harris gave notice that he should ask for a vote of it to-morrow, and that at the close of the resulting morning hydrogen be should. of the routine morning business he should move to proceed to the consideration of the tariff bill. MR. HARRIS CALLS FOR A VOTE. After the discussion on the pending amendment appeared to have closed it was suggested by Mr. Harris that the vote be taken, but Mr. Allison, a member of the Committee on Finance, moved ber of the Committee on Finance, moved to amend by striking out the 20th of June, 1884, and leaving the date blank. He argued that that was the more desirable course, and taid that he had never known a day to be fixed for a tariff bli going into effect until the last moment, and that there should be an interval of several months between the date of the passage of the bill and the date of the passage of the bill and the date of its becoming operative, in order that business might have time to, in a measure, adjust itself to the new condition. In the further course of discussion reference was made by Mr. Mitchell (Ore.) to a newspaper interview with Senator Brice, was made by Mr. Mitchell (Ore.) to a newspaper interview with Senator Brice, in which that Senator was represented as saying that the bill had been fixed up so as to be acceptable to Democratic senators, and that the changes had been drawn up, practically, by the Secretary of the Treasury.

SOME IMPORTANT CHANGES ON THE C. & O. AT NEWPORT NEWS.

Transferred to that Point_Cleared for Liverpool with Cattle.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., April 25.-Spe cial.—The few railroad officials here who are in the secret are greatly interested in some important changes that are about to be made in the management of the Chesapoint. Although the official announcement has not yet been made, your correspondent this afternoon learned the following facts from perfectly trustworthy sources:

Capt. H. E. Parker, who has for five Capt. H. E. Parker, who has for five and a half years had charge of the company's business here, with the title of freight agent, will be promoted to be superintendent of the terminal, a position which is about to be created. This will enlarge the scope of his authority, while relieving him of the labor of attending to a number of details. All the company's departments here will report to him. J. W. Elliott, now the company's freight agent at Norfolk, will come here with a limitar rank, and assume some of the agent at Norfolk, will come here with a similar rank, and assume some of the duties, especially those of a cierical character, now resting upon Captain Parker. How well Captain Parkers promotion has been merited is seen in the fact that the company's business at this point has under his management in the last five years increased four-fold. Pier No. 4, pronounced one of the finest in the United States, was built at his suggestion and under his supervision.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The long-expected decision in the Chicago Gas quo warranto case was made public after the close of the Stock Exchange yester, day, and naturally enough operators were much disturbed as to the effect of the Attorney-General's adverse opinion as to the legality of the trust company. The Street has all along expected that the decision would be against the company, but it did not look for such a sweeping condemnation of the concern's methods. The first impression of holders was to sell the stock, and at the start 3,000 shares were sold at 64g18, against 65% at the close yesterday. The stock led all the rest during the first two hours of business, and 50,000 shares changed hands. During the remainder of the session only 3,700 shares were traded in. Representatives of the company here will contest the matter to the end. They claim that the Attorney-General's charges can be disproved. DAILY COTTON LETTER.

DAILY COTTON LETTER.

Following is the daily cotton letter of Atwood. Violett & Co., of New York, by private wire to C. W. Branch & Co.:

Liverpool opened and closed very steady at 1 to 2 points better than last night. Spot sales there were better, 10,000 bales. Evidently they are giving some attention to a contradiction of the very favorable crop prospects which have been given to Liverpool for some time past. The movement this week, both at the ports and the interior, foreshadows, in our opinion, a marked failing off in receipts benceforth. We have had these impressions before, and they have not been realised by a great deal, but it has been evident for some time that receipts at New Orieans have been largely at the expense of Houston and other Texas points, and as the territory adjacent to New Orieans has been pretty well exhausted, both at the towns and plantations, it looks as though that port would give little assistance in making port receipts during the balance of the season as large as they were last year. An examination of the movement there up to September ist next shows how very largely New Orieans contributed in bringing into sight nearly 500 bales from last Friday to ist September last year. This market improved 6 points, losing 6 points. It is difficult, apparently, to create any permanent improvement, so far as this market is concerned, until it shall be evident that the prospects for the next crop are not promising, either as to the area in cultivation or the growing conditions. The bears point to the continued unfavorable trade conditions in this country, the fact that there is an abundant world's supply of all kinds. At the same time the amount coming into sight weekly is not likely to be of any weight on the market, unless Liverpool should again fall back to small business and refuse to take the lead in any improvement, which after all must come from that market. A recount of the stock at New Orleans shows that they have 1,750 bales less than their running count. Port receipts to-day, 4,506 bales, against 5,200 bales last year. Port receipts to-morrow should not exceed 5,000 bales, against last year, as the estimate for New Orleans to-morrow is only 500 to 1,000 bales against 4,400 bales last year, we anticipate a light port movement, and it would not surprise us to see the amount conling into sight weekly smaller than last year for the remainder of the season. The assertion is made recently by those opposed to the market, that this crop no longer has any bearing upon the situation, but it is noticeable that when the movement is larger than last year, it declines, and when it is smaller it
